A WORD FROM THE MAYOR

Welcome to Fredericksburg, Texas.

Located in the heart of the Texas Hill Country, Fredericksburg has been a popular destination for travelers for many years. Fredericksburg has small-town living but with big-city amenities. Our special town is home to more than 400 special events and festivals each year; over 1,500 unique lodging properties; over 75 wineries, vineyards and tasting rooms; 150 locally-owned shops; two nationally accredited museums; two Texas State Parks; great restaurants and so much more. With so much to see and do, you might want to stay awhile.

Take a stroll down our historic Main Street and you will feel a sense of place, experience our traditional values and our deep historical roots. Our town has character.

Over the past few years, we have seen Fredericksburg's popularity grow, with nearly 2 million visitors a year. We remind visitors that this is a community where people have lived and worked for decades to make sure this special place can be enjoyed by all, now and in the future.

Speaking of the future, take time to get to know the new generation of leaders while you are here. Everyone has different talents and perspectives, but we are all here because we care about strengthening the future of Fredericksburg for the better.

This book has everything you need to help plan your visit. You can also go to VisitFredericksburgTX.com for more information, or stop by the Visitor Information Center and speak with the knowledgeable staff.

We can't wait to hear how you fall in love with Fredericksburg.

JERYL HOOVER
MAYOR
FREDERICKSBURG, TX

THOUGH THE YEARS HAVE CHANGED, our story REMAINS THE SAME

In every limestone building, peach tree and glass of Fredericksburg's finest, there's a feeling stronger than any mortar, root or tannin. A feeling resistant to the tricks of time, it's the very foundation that built this town nearly 200 years ago: love.

Fredericksburg's journey from a small German settlement to a thriving modern town is a love story that spans centuries. It is a story of resilience, passion and generosity. From a seed planted in 1846, a vibrant community of residents and visitors—old and new—continues to grow with the same care and dedication of those who came before.

There's a reason they call Fredericksburg the Heart of the Texas Hill Country. Aside from the fact that it's the center of Texas, Fredericksburg's moniker is deeper than any title or badge. It's a way of life. A legacy passed from one generation to the next; a mindset adopted by those who call Gillespie County lines "home."

Today, Fredericksburg is a living testament to an enduring love. Here, the past is honored, the present is celebrated and the future is embraced. As you venture through our town's many chapters, from Enchanted Rock and wildflower blooms to the many one-of-a-kind treasures and characters found only here—discover that love truly is all around you.

Love,
Fredericksburg®

HERITAGE LAYERED IN limestone

Here, history is all around you. In the soil, limestone buildings and lingering German accents, Fredericksburg is a representation of all who’ve come before. As you venture into Gillespie County, hugged by its rolling hills, you’ll find an overwhelming friendly feeling. A spirit that founded this town nearly two centuries ago—commemorated by a life-size bronze statue at the heart of town, Marktplatz.

It’s a friendliness that has weathered wars, with historic sites like Fort Martin Scott, the first U.S. military post to be established on Texas’ western frontier.

Fredericksburg’s is a history of passion and pride—generations of families carrying on legacies and preserving the town’s rich heritage in dialects, structures, artifacts and continued traditions. From its foundation in 1846, the 120 German settlers who called this slice of Hill Country “home,” Fredericksburg has blossomed into a community of entrepreneurs, artists, makers and more.

Wherever you venture, however you roam, you’ll find this generational warmth at every turn. A stroll along Main Street is a stroll through time, with glimpses, snippets and snapshots of the past preserved in the limestone architecture, shared stories and cherished photographs.

To dive deeper, live like an early settler at Pioneer Museum for an “in-town” experience—featuring original buildings, complete with a home, blacksmith shop, one-room schoolhouse and Sunday House. Or venture out and experience a working 1900s farmstead, the Sauer-Beckmann Living History Farm. Located in Stonewall, the Sauer-Beckmann Farm offers year-round immersion, with period-specific interpreters tending to the animals, garden and property for a once-in-a-lifetime tour through the past.

While in town, visit the ranch and former home of the 36th President, Lyndon B. Johnson (the Texas White House is currently closed for renovation). A 1960s time capsule, his home features a “hotline” to Washington from his dining room table, vintage car collection and airplane lovingly referred to as “Air Force One-Half.”

From pioneers to presidents, a respect for the past is imbued in everything we do.

Explore Historic Main Street

Back in town and right in the heart of the historic district is a must-do even for non-history buffs. The National Museum of the Pacific War—including the Admiral Nimitz Gallery, named after Fredericksburg native, Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz—is a state-of-the-art facility and Smithsonian Affiliate that pays homage to a war never to be forgotten.

Historically speaking, there's so much to see. Visit St. Mary's Catholic Churches, built in 1861 and 1908. Check out the Sunday Houses sprinkled throughout town (many now guesthouses) that stand as a reminder of our past. Pick up a walking map of our nationally recognized historic district at the Visitor Information Center or explore the Gillespie County Country School Driving Trail.

▲ Kids can get a taste of chores in the 1800s at the Pioneer Museum Complex.

MUSEUMS AND HISTORIC SITES

📍 ALBERT, TEXAS ICEHOUSE AND DANCEHALL 📍

alberttexas.com

5435 S. Ranch Road 1623
(830) 644-2042

The Albert Dancehall was built in 1922 by Max Beckman, and provided the community a place for Saturday night dances and social gatherings. It featured German brass bands rotating between the Luckenbach, Hye and Weinheimer dancehalls of the time. Located just south of Highway 290, halfway between Fredericksburg and Johnson City, the tradition of community gatherings and dancing continues.
Hours: Wed-Thu: 12 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Fri-Sat: 11 a.m. to 12 a.m.; Sun: 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

1 4 CEMETERIES

Fredericksburg has two main historic cemeteries located at the east and west ends of town. Der Stadt Friedhof, located at the 300 block of N. Lee St., and the Catholic Cemetery, located on Catholic Cemetery Road, are both known for their striking granite markers and headstones, many in German.

2 CHRISTIAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

602 E. Main St.
(817) 994-2017

Built in 1887 and formerly called "The Colored Methodist Episcopal Church," this simple white frame structure, with its small steeple, sits atop a native limestone foundation and has been renovated in recent years.

📍 CROSS MOUNTAIN PARK

fbgtx.org/415/cross-mountain-park

On North Milam just at the outskirts of town. Cross Mountain is located on a historic marl and limestone hill with an elevation of 1,951 ft. featuring beautiful views, walking trails, butterfly garden and picnic areas. It was used as an Indian lookout prior to early settlers. In 1847 during the settling of Fredericksburg, a timber cross was found on the hilltop, and early Fredericksburg pioneers gave this hill the name "Kreuzberg," or Cross Mountain. In 1946, a permanent lighted cross was raised, and a new cross was erected in 2024. Enjoy a walk to the top for the scenic overview.

WHERE MORE THAN WILDFLOWERS bloom

There's a beauty unlike any other, an ease in every sense of the word in the Texas Hill Country. Located in the heart of the state, Fredericksburg is home to a wealth of natural wonder. From the rolling hills and winding roads to the mystical, magical Enchanted Rock State Natural Area, natural beauty blossoms and blooms throughout. Scenic landscapes, wide open spaces and welcoming faces make Fredericksburg a place to savor. Perfect for outdoor enthusiasts and the naturally curious, the weather is fit for year-round exploration. From hiking, biking and volkssporting to stargazing and sightseeing, the rolling hills of Gillespie County are filled with adventures, memories and cherished traditions waiting to be discovered.

BICYCLING

The back roads of Gillespie County provide miles of scenic views for road bicycle riding. Although the area roads are lightly traveled compared to big cities, riders are encouraged to obey all rules of the road to ensure their safety. With the hilly terrain, cars can come upon bicyclists without much notice, so please stay as far to the right as possible. Mountain biking enthusiasts will enjoy Hill Country State Natural Area, near Bandera, and Pedernales Falls State Park, near Johnson City. See bicycle rentals, page 39.

BIRDING

Approximately 300 species of birds can be found in the Texas Hill Country, where birding is great all year. The area is an overlap zone of ranges of eastern and western bird species, as well as some northern and southern species. Be sure to look for the endangered Black-capped Vireos and Golden-cheeked Warblers. An excellent place to view birds in Fredericksburg proper is the Live Oak Wilderness Nature Trail at Lady Bird Johnson Municipal Park on S. State Hwy. 16. Stop for a bird checklist at the park office. Pedernales Falls State Park, near Johnson City, has wildlife viewing stations, while Enchanted Rock State Natural Area, 18 miles north of Fredericksburg, is also a premier birdwatching location.

FISHING

Fishing opportunities are available in Hill Country state parks and at area lakes. The closest place for kids to drop a line in the water is Lady Bird Johnson Municipal Park. Tres Molinos Ranch & Resort in Harper, TX, (830) 992-8783, offers a stocked pond along with bait and tackle. See city and state parks, page 12.

HIKING

The Hill Country region of Texas offers numerous state parks for hiking. See list of state parks and natural areas starting on page 12.

HUNTING

The Fredericksburg area of the Texas Hill Country is home to many native and exotic species of animals, which allow sportsmen almost year-round hunting opportunities. White-tail deer are the most popular and plentiful quarry pursued by hunters, but there are also turkey, doves and quail. Many ranches in the Hill Country now manage their herds to improve the quality and health of the animals. In addition to the native game, exotics such as axis deer, blackbuck antelope, fallow deer, sika deer and feral hogs are abundant.

ROCK CLIMBING

Estimated to be over one billion years old, the pink granite domes and boulders of Enchanted Rock State Natural Area make it one of the best climbing venues in all of Texas. See more information at tpwd.texas.gov/state-parks/enchanted-rock.

SWIMMING POOLS

The City of Fredericksburg operates two public, outdoor swimming pools for summer enjoyment: Coach Tony Knopp Town Pool, located in the 100 block of W. Travis, and Lady Bird Johnson Municipal Park Pool, located on S. State Hwy. 16. For additional information call Town Pool at (830) 997-8879 or Park Pool at (830) 997-8660. A splash park for all ages is located behind Town Pool and is free of charge. An indoor pool for year-round use is located at the Create Healthy Wellness Center, located at 1006 S. State Hwy. 16. (830) 997-1355.

VOLKSSPORTING

The first volkssport (German walking sport) event in the United States was held in Fredericksburg in June 1976, and the Volkssport-verein Friedrichsburg (club AVA-001) was the first club organized in the U.S. The club sponsors three year-round walking routes, which start at the Sunday House Inn & Suites, located at 501 E. Main St.

OLD TUNNEL STATE PARK

tpwd.texas.gov/state-parks/old-tunnel
Located 10.5 miles south of U.S. Hwy. 290 on the Old San Antonio Road
(866) 978-2287
Old Tunnel State Park features an abandoned railroad tunnel that was built in 1913. The tunnel is now home to a colony of approximately 3 million Mexican free-tailed bats. These bats migrate up from Mexico and are present in the tunnel from May through October each year. Visitors can come out and view the bat emergence from the upper viewing area any night of the week during bat season for a $2 per person fee. The lower viewing area is only open on Thu-Sun evenings for a $5 per person fee, which also includes a formal interpretive program.
Due to the bats' sensitivity to noise, children age three and under are not allowed at the lower viewing area. State Parks and Bluebonnet passes are not accepted for this activity tour fee. Permits for both viewing areas can only be purchased online through the reservation system. No permits will be sold at the park. The park is open from sunrise until 5 p.m. - no entrance fee or permit required. After 5 p.m., all visitors must have a bat viewing tour permit. It is recommended for those with permits to arrive at least one hour before the earliest posted emergence time. Please check the Old Tunnel State Park Facebook page for current emergence times and additional information.

WHERE MELODIES BECOME memories

In accents and acoustic strums, two centuries of rich German heritage ring through Fredericksburg's rolling hills. Beyond a love for the land, our town was founded on a love for the arts. From Main Street to Hill Top Café and everywhere in between, countless stages, dancehalls and restaurants fill our scenic slice of Hill Country with an array of genres, styles and legacies to discover. However, our stories aren't limited to the lyrics you hear. For over 80 years, the Fredericksburg Music Club has hosted classical musicians from around the world, and for over 20, the Fredericksburg Theater Company has wowed audiences with award-winning performances like "South Pacific," "Les Misérables" and "Beauty and the Beast." Award-winning and awe-inspiring, our town is filled with talent, from the musically inclined to the comedic and theatrical.

*Named one of the best cities for wine lovers in the U.S., Fredericksburg's "wine country is one of the most picturesque."
- National Geographic*

TRADITIONS TO sip and savor

A perfect balance between past and present, Fredericksburg is where an outpouring of heritage and charm flows. Our glass is so much deeper than the wine that fills it, our passion richer than the grapes that grow. Home to over 75 wineries, vineyards and tasting rooms, we are the epicenter of Texas Wine Country. The heart of generations of growers, makers and entrepreneurs.

When you drink our wine you taste the tradition, passion and craft passed down from the original settlers who founded our town centuries ago. You could say there's something in our soil, rather it's the passion of those who continue to steward this land. As you sip and savor, you'll find that each winery and vineyard has its own unique personality—its own distinct taste to discover.

WINERIES

Tours and tastings available at most wineries in Gillespie County. Tasting fees apply. Groups are highly encouraged to make tasting reservations prior to visiting. Note: These facilities have a winery "G" permit from the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

celebrations FOR EVERY SEASON

Where friends become family and families gather year after year, festivals in Fredericksburg feel like homecoming—a chance to explore, celebrate and create memories, decades in the making. A passion for every part of this town's heart, from music and food to art, flowers, holidays and history—with intention in everything we do, there's no shortage of love worth commemorating in Fredericksburg.

MEMORIES BLOSSOM AND BLOOM

From painted landscapes and wildflower blooms to family escapes, enjoy springtime in the place even the wildflowers choose to call home.

HARVEST TIME

Summer is filled with enjoyment, passion and excitement. After months spent growing, summer heats up with celebrations from fairs and festivals to rodeos and parades, and everything in between.

FLAVORS OF FALL

The leaves may change, yet our love for good food and even better company remains the same. From Oktoberfest to Food and Wine Fest, Texas Mesquite Arts to Bestfest and Back to the Basics, fall hosts a flavor for every palate, a tune for every taste.

WEIHNACHTSZEIT

A magical place for a magical time of year: Discover generations of cheer in Fredericksburg under starry dark sky nights. From traditional decorations to timeless traditions, Fredericksburg is the perfect place to find heritage this holiday season.

Home to nearly 400 festivals and special events throughout the year, there is always something happening around town.
